ORGANISATION

Variable from one individual to another.
For novices, an average of 10 hours (minimum 6 hours, maximum 14 hours).

DIRECTED SELF-TRAINING

- 1 introductory and pre-test session
This enables learners to familiarise themselves with the equipment used. The various exercises are viewed, then carried out and marked.
- 1 midterm reinforcement session.
This enables response to questions and addition of new personalised objectives for learners who have validated the Fundamentals of Laparoscopic Surgery (FLS).
- 1 final assessment session
This enables assessment of progress in comparison with the initial test.

Organisation of training sessions: you manage session organisation, with optimal durations of between 60 and 90 minutes. Maximum of 2 sessions a day in order to limit fatigue. Ideally, 60-minute sessions several times a week until you are able to complete the curriculum.

GROUP SIZE

- 12 learners par session
- 2 facilitators: Dr Nicolas Berte & Dr Julie Lienard
